WHAT IS TECHNOLOGY FACILITATED SEXUAL VIOLENCE?

- Refers to instances of sexual abuse, violence and harassment that is perpetrated with the use of digital medial technology
 - Includes: cyberstalking, cyber harassment and revenge porn
- It is one of the most pervasive aspects of sexual violence today yet the least examined.

While it is a behavior that may take place online, the impacts are real. It affects 'real lives ... real humiliations and human pain is being generated"

(Brown, e (2006) Integration by way of the criminology of hybrids. Criminology: An Integrated Approach, 118 - 121. Rowman & Littlefield Plymouth, UK).

Join this presentation by Dr. Alexa Dodge. Her presentation will be broadcast from McEwan University.

She will address TFSV in Canada and provide information related to responding to this type of sexual violence.
